

What's the difference?

Paper, cardboard and everything in-between.

PAPER & CARDBOARD PRODUCTS

Paper and Cardboard Products will most likely be the bulk of your household recyclables. These products add up quickly. Some common items are cardboard shipping boxes; newspapers and flyers; magazines and junk-mail; boxboard packaging (like cereal boxes); gift wrap and greeting cards; and food packaging including pizza boxes. Please make sure that all packaging is free of contaminants such as chunks of food or excessive tape.

Please don't include products that are multi layered with foil or plastic layers combined with a paper layer. Examples of these products would be padded mailers made up of a bubble layer with an outer paper envelope, or certain food packages that are foil lined with a paper outer (Goldfish crackers are a good example of this).

Paper is recycled into new paper products, boxboard, the paper cover for drywall, moulded paper egg cartons and insulation. Paper packaging and cardboard is recycled into new boxes, paper towels, tissues, paper-based plant pots, the paper cover for drywall liner, kraft paper, brown paper products including paper towels.

If you have any questions about paper and cardboard products or any other material categories, the attendants at the Recycle BC Depots are there to answer them for you.
